

AAHS ANNUAL MEETING UPDATE

October 2-4, 2020

Program Update

We continue to plan for a safe, fun-filled aviation weekend for our AAHS ANNUAL MEETING, based in San Carlos, California. If, because of changing conditions, we feel we cannot hold the event, we will defer this until next year. We WILL communicate our go-no go status to attendees directly by September 6, to allow for travel plan changes. Let's think positive!

We will take every precaution to support our members' health and safety. These precautions include providing personal sanitizers to all attendees, checking temperatures (touchless), increasing spacing for seating in our venues, and during bus transportation, reducing the number of riders per bus to allow plenty of room between passengers.

next door, originally begun by an aviation family and enjoy an outdoor wine-tasting and tour!

Sunday morning we'll tour the Hiller Museum and lunch at the San Carlos Airport Sky Kitchen café.

Friday evening, October 2, we still plan to be at the San Francisco International Museum Archives, for munchies and wine, and a presentation. We will be further spread out, and the archive tours will be in smaller groups.

On Saturday, October 3, our venue has changed. We will now be busing to nearby historic Schellville Airport (Sonoma Valley Airport), in Sonoma, where we will have our lunch program in open space in the main hangar, and view the several historic aircraft housed here, such as a rare Douglas DST, and a two-seat P-40, which is available for rides. After lunch we'll visit the sumptuous Jacuzzi Winery

We are still updating our speaker list. Stay tuned for more developments! Pricing will remain the same even with the additional activities. Our scheduled hotel, the Fairfield Inn and Suites, has been reopened for business after weeks of unoccupancy, and will still provide a group rate for AAHS.

More details on the weekend activities, and pricing will be posted to the AAHS website.

If you have any questions or concerns, don't hesitate to contact me (see below) and we'll address them as quickly as possible.

See you there!
